

the double-tracking of the Southern, now in process of construction, Mr. Thom asked the witness if there were any substantial difficulties in the way of getting capital to make those improvements. Mr. Green replied that there were, and that the work could not be done from the earnings of the company.

Difficulty in Getting Capital.
"In order to obtain capital for these improvements," Mr. Thom asked the witness, "what must the company show as a basis to attract investors to lend it money?"

"It must show prosperous and profitable results and operations. In other words, it must give assurance of a fair and safe return upon its investments," replied the witness.

"Do you know whether it is possible now to obtain money for new railway enterprises in the South?" the witness was asked.

"My information is that it is not possible."

"Has it been necessary on that account to discontinue any improvements and postpone others indefinitely on the Southern Railway?"

Mr. Green replied that it had.

After going somewhat into detail concerning the cost of freight carriage of various food products from New Orleans, Cincinnati and Louisville to points on the Southern, the hearing was adjourned until Monday.

WAR ON CRAP JOINTS.
Police Raid Two and Negroes Jump From Windows.

War was declared on the up-town crap joints last night, the officers of the second district raiding two places in full operation before midnight. The first place raided was in the rear of the 1st at 16 West Broad Street, and five negroes were held until the wagon arrived. Policemen Brown, Schief and Phillips surrounded the house and secured the principals in the game, although several others made their escape. An hour later a house near Fourth and Broad was pulled, and although a number of the rollers of the bones managed to jump from second-story windows, the officers got three negroes for their pains.

Both arrests caused the assembling of considerable crowds on the street corners as Broad Street was thronged with people at the time, but no disorder occurred, although there were many negroes in the crowd. The big auto patrol was able to handle the arrest with considerable speed.

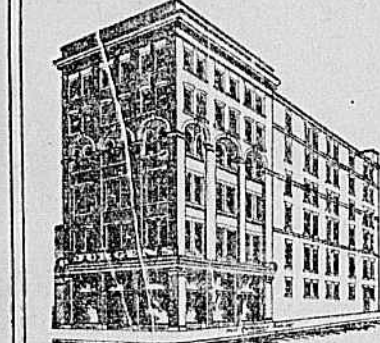

Arrested Boy and Cow.
Charles Fuqua, a sixteen-year-old colored boy, was locked up at the First Police Station yesterday on the charge of stealing a cow, the property of one Melissa Derkley. Policemen o'clock, as directed, and ordered to be absolutely under the control of the Sheriff of Accomack county and the Mayor of Onancock.

CRITICISM CONCEIVED BIG ORANGE SAYS HE

Went to Jamestown.
The Governor said as soon as he ascertained that the troops had embarked and would reach Onancock by 11 o'clock that night, he about 10 o'clock he left for the important engagements at the Jamestown Exposition the next day. That after the troops had been there several days, as originally thought necessary, he directed Adjutant-General Anderson to telegraph the Sheriff of Accomack county and the Mayor of Onancock to inform him how much longer the troops would be needed. In response to these telegrams, he received the following telegram from the Mayor of Onancock.

Onancock, Va., August 17, 1907.
Governor: The Mayor of Onancock, Va.,

The orders of Colonel Nottingham have been obeyed. Prisoners have been taken and the town is quiet. The citizens and Town Council desire troops remain. Parties concerned in shooting have not been captured. Excitedly, R. D. DOUGHTY.

The Sheriff of Accomack county sent the following telegram:
Accomack, Va., August 17, 1907.
Adjutant-General Charles J. Anderson, Richmond, Va.:

Wrote Governor Swanson full details last night by special delivery. L. B. KILLAM.

The letter of the Sheriff of Accomack county referred to in this telegram as having been written the Governor is as follows:
Accomack, Va., August 16, 1907.
Governor: The Sheriff of Accomack county, Executive Mansion, Richmond, Va.:

Dear Governor.—The leading negroes of the county are at Onancock to-day and held at a conference with Colonel Nottingham, Mayor Doughty and myself, asking us if we would give them protection "militia" gave them protection during the Agricultural Fair, which they expect to hold on the 24th, 25th and 26th. The Colonel Nottingham told them that he could not promise that, without the Sheriff, through the Governor, would be ordered to do so. They then asked that you had told him he could keep the soldiers as long a time as he deemed necessary, and he thought it would be probable to reach up to the time of our "fair." Now, Governor, I would like to hear from you at once regarding the matter.

I assured the colored people that we would do our best to protect them. They said that they want some assurance of having the "soldiers," or their fair will be an absolute failure, because the negroes would be afraid to come out to it. Now, the question is, shall we hold the "militia," or rather, will you order them to remain on the "fair." I feel pretty positive, and do not hesitate to say that they will be needed here, should the two fugitives (Burton and Uzzie) be apprehended, and I believe, from what I gather from the conversation of Colonel Nottingham, that he is of the same opinion. I visited the father of Burton yesterday, and am sure that his son is still in hiding in the county. I had a confidential talk and advised him to communicate with his son, and tell him to give himself up to me, and I would guarantee him protection by the "militia." I had already learned from a reliable source that he was willing to do that if he was guaranteed protection. We have a survey of the steamer which comes in to Onancock every night, and Colonel Nottingham and myself intend to go on board of her in the near future, when matters have been prearranged. It is along these lines, Governor, that I am working and am bending every effort to that end. I would like you to advise me as early as you can on matters mentioned here. You will have haste, and all things, and expect to see the father of Burton to-night, as partly agreed upon, so I am pressing for time. I am working as hard as I can to get the matter straightened out, and to many may hinder, rather than facilitate. Until I hear from you, shall hold "militia" anyway, hope it will win you your approbation. Your humble servant, LEE B. KILLAM.

Sheriff of Accomack County.

Governor Makes Reply.
Upon receipt of the telegrams and the letter the Governor replied to the Mayor of Onancock as follows:

Richmond, Va., August 17, 1907.
Hon. T. R. Doughty, Onancock, Va.:

Have directed Colonel Nottingham to remain subject to your order. Am relying on you to keep peace and the law fully enforced and respected.

Adjutant-General Anderson sent the following order:
Colonel Thomas J. Nottingham, Onancock, Va.:

Letter of 16th received. Governor approves concluding paragraph contained in your letter, and act accordingly. The Mayor desires troops to continue.

The Governor directs you to comply with the Mayor's request.

Adjutant-General of Virginia.
Some time after this the three prisoners, Burton Uzzie and Constance, surrendered themselves to the military, and under direction of the Governor the prisoners were taken to the Norfolk city jail for safekeeping.

The Governor said, having been requested by the Mayor of Onancock and the Sheriff of Accomack county to permit the troops to remain in Accomack county until the negro fair was over he ordered them to do so. As soon as the fair was over the troops left. The troops while there were under the control, and subject to the order of the Sheriff of Accomack county and the Mayor of Onancock. That after the prisoners were put in the city jail of Norfolk he informed the authorities of Accomack county that they were to be taken to the order of the Circuit Court of Accomack county and the constituted authorities thereof, and answer for such offenses as they may have committed in the county.

The Governor said further, he decided to take the opportunity afforded for criticism and ridicule to which Judge Blackstone sought to subject the Virginia Volunteers. He said that the Virginia Volunteers were as fine, orderly and patriotic a body of men as could be found anywhere. That they had, at great sacrifices to themselves, and at great loss to their business, generously responded at all times to his call and upheld the dignity and peace of the Commonwealth.

Hot Rejoinder.
The Governor said, with reference to the vapors of Judge Blackstone concerning himself that it was a matter of absolute indifference to him as to what opinion Judge Blackstone may entertain concerning him or his conduct. That where a man whose name is known by his opinion can neither injure nor benefit any person that he made this statement in reply because he thought that such a statement might be given to Judge Blackstone on account of his position, but that the statements made by him were sufficient to show that Judge Blackstone's remarks concerning him were conceived either in ignorance or malice.

HIT IN HEAD IN CROWDED ALLEY

L. L. Chamberlain Found in Serious Condition—May Have Been Robbed.

L. L. Chamberlain, of 1214 North Twenty-fourth Street, went down on Seventeenth Street yesterday afternoon and entered a crowded alley, where some one rapped him over the head with a blunt instrument, either a piece of rubber hose or a sand bag.

The city ambulance in charge of Dr. Hinckman was called by the police, who found the man in a serious condition. He was treated and taken home and late last night was thought to be out of danger, and suffering only from a severe headache. The police have not made any arrest as yet, as Dr. Chamberlain has not been able to give any clear description of his assailant, and is somewhat uncertain as to whether or not he had been robbed.

CUTTING APPRAIS.
With Fourteen Patches in Back Negro Walks Home.

Tom Seaton, colored, was severely stabbed yesterday evening by Austin Bingham, also colored, at Thirtieth and N Streets. When the city ambulance arrived in charge of Dr. Hinckman, Seaton was found to have fourteen cuts in his back, each of which took several stitches. Another severe cut over the left eye showed the work of Bingham's knife. A few being sewed up, however, Seaton was able to get up and walk away. The police are looking for Bingham.

Jim Hubbard, colored, got into a general mix-up with John Logan yesterday afternoon near Seventeenth and Franklin Streets. Logan drew a knife and seriously wounded Hubbard in the back, making a great cut under the shoulder blade. Both negroes were drunk, and after Hubbard's wound was dressed they were both locked up at the First Police Station. Dr. Hinckman, of the city ambulance force, attended the wounded man.

Disorderly on Car.
William Morris (colored) was arrested last night on a charge of interfering with a conductor of car No. 259 of the Clay Street line. The warrant was issued by Conductor T. P. Powell and Police Officer Stockman brought him to the Second Station an hour later.

Negro Arrested.
Andrew Lacy, twenty-one years old, a laborer and colored, was arrested yesterday morning by the police. He was born in Virginia, but who could give no definite account of his means of gaining a livelihood, was locked up last night at the First Police Station on a charge of being a suspicious character.

FARMVILLE HAS A BRILLIANT GERMAN

Miss Helen O'Ferrall, of Richmond, One of Many Charming Participants.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FARMVILLE, Va., September 7.—The German dance, held at the Hotel Prince Edward, was without question the most brilliant ever given in Farmville. The ladies and gentlemen were costumed and the scene in the brightly illuminated ballroom was one of rare beauty.

Captain and Mrs. E. Scott Martin led the German, which began at 9 and lasted until after 1 o'clock. Two prizes were offered by the German Club, one to the lady who best impersonated the character she represented, and the other to the gentleman for the same thing. The judges appointed, ten of whom were strangers to all the dancers. They were Messrs. Richard Willis, of Colorado Springs; J. B. Rote, of Westfield, Mass., and J. L. Hart, of Farmville. The decision of the judges gave the lady's prize to Miss Katherine Verser, who impersonated a shepherdess, and to Mr. Robert L. Prener, as George Washington. At midnight a delicious supper was served, after which dancing was resumed.

MAD-DOG SCARE.
Fulton Terrified by Appearance of Animal With Rabies.

Fulton suffered from a severe mad-dog scare yesterday afternoon, a dog showing every symptom of rabies appearing at Third and Denny Streets, running after several children and practically clearing the street for a time.

Policeman W. G. Tate was in the neighborhood and shot the animal without ceremony, much to the relief of a terrified community. It is not believed that any serious damage was done, although the animal had been at large for some time.

LITTLE BOY LONG CHARGE.
Ten-Year-Old Child Placed Under Arrest Last Night.

The case of John Crew was called in the Police Court yesterday morning, when John, a ten-year-old boy, could answer satisfactorily as to his whereabouts, and the case was continued until the police could look him up. John, a son of W. O. Ford, was taken to the Police Station last night, and he will be held until the court opens on Monday morning.

John Crew, by the way, turned out to be a ten-year-old youth, who was charged with making a disturbance, using improper language, making threats and throwing stones, defacing and injuring the property, and disturbing the peace of mind of one E. W. Drake. So serious was the charge against a youth seems hard to believe, and if proven will put John in the reformatory for eleven years, or until he is twenty-one years of age.

Malaria

TO break up Malaria by giving massive doses of quinine is merely substituting one disease for another, while calomel and other drastic drugs merely irritate the liver and bowels.

Combinations of arsenic, ergot, and iron falsely stimulate without producing any permanent beneficial effect; in fact, tend to complicate the disease.

Babek contains no quinine, arsenic, or deleterious drugs. The successful use of this preparation in the treatment of malarial diseases for over 25 years by thousands of sufferers proves it to be the most reliable remedy.

BABEK

Restored His Health. Gentlemen: It gave me pleasure to recommend your Babek as a sure cure for Malaria Fever. I suffered for several months with this distressing disease, and very high fever, was nervous, had no appetite, and could not sleep. A friend told me of your Babek, and I have taken three bottles, and feel completely restored to health. I also consider your medicine a fine tonic for a rundown constitution.
